

STRANGER THINGS

A science fiction horror tv series that took the world by storm

Now to the point, what's the show actually about. The story begins in Hawkins, Indiana a small quiet town, where on November 6, 1983 a small boy called Will Byers mysteriously vanishes. As the investigation of the boy's disappearance progresses, strange things begin to happen all over the town. The story focuses on a group of friends and quite hysterical mom frantically searching for Will. Also a strange bald girl appears and it seems to be that she may know where Will is.

Imagine what would it feel like to travel in time, to catch a glimpse of the atmosphere of another decade or even century . For example the 80's. The new tv show Stranger Things offers you just that. Trust me, it makes you feel like the story actually unwraps in the era of mom jeans and old movie classics.

Show about kids, but not for kids? It sounds weird at fist but trust us, you will fall in love with the adorable characters, guiding you through the show.

THE SQUAD

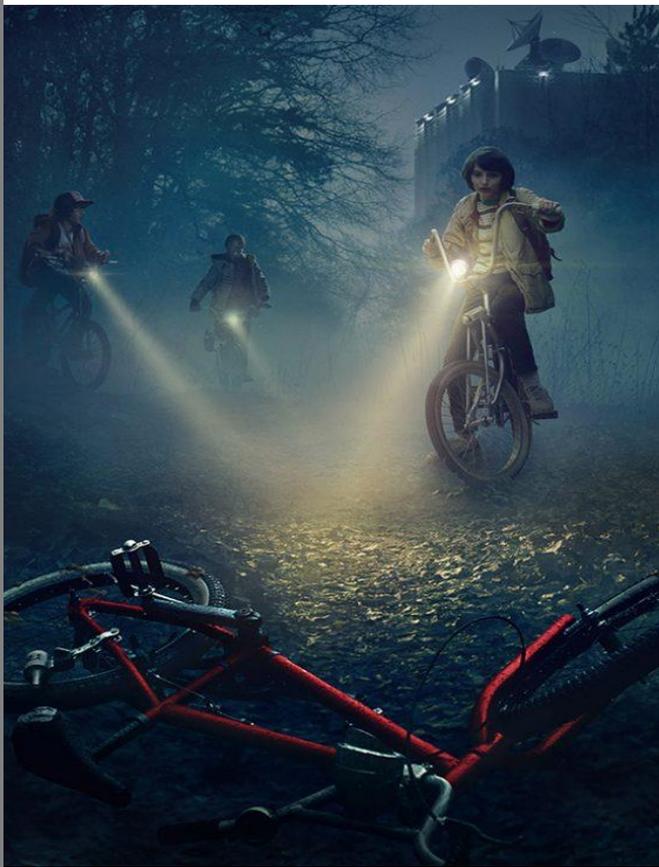

Our main heart throb is a twelve years old Mike, a very smart boy, who is very interested in science and of course playing the Dungeon of dragons. His best friends are Lucas and Dustin, who doesnt have front teeth.

They meet the weirdo, a bald girl, that simply does not fit into the normal world. She is called Eleven and is the opposite of a normal girl.

Other key characters are the police chief Jim Hopper, Joyce Byers, the mom of the lost boy, Nancy, the older sister of Mike, and some of her love interests. If you are wondering who the bad guy is, we don't want to give away too much, but be prepared for some scary stuff as well as evil government scientists.

CULTURAL TOUCHSTONES OF THE 80'S

The show is quite special in its atmosphere, there are many links referring to the pop culture of this certain time period. Throughout all the episodes, you hear those old hits, that you subconsciously know by heart, for example the iconic Should I Stay or Should I Go by The Clash, and other songs worth mentioning like Africa by Toto IV. It is not just the music, to make it feel even more real, there are movie posters and merchandise of the gold movie classics. The main eyecatchers are titles like All the right moves, Poltergeist, Jaws, Star Wars, The Thing, the X-men comics or E.T. and also some of the main plot motives are used in the series as well. Other inspirations are Stephen King's novels. Some of the actors are touchstones of the eighties themselves. The brightest star is without a doubt Winona Ryder.

"This show will make you want to eat some Eggo waffles and listen to some good old mixtapes"
